Sir:

In response to the Office Action of December 5, 2008, claims 1-4 are submitted for further consideration in view of the following remarks.

The PTO initially refers to 35 USC §112, ¶2; however, the PTO does not appear to have formally rejected the claims under this section or presented a basis for such a rejection. The PTO provides "examples of language that may raise a question as to the limiting effect of the language in a claim" (emphasis added), but does not explicitly state that any particular recitations in the present claims raise such a "question," still less specifically assert that any of the claims fail to comply with the requirements of §112, ¶2 or explain how such claims fail to do so. The PTO cites Ito et al.'s
